Minister's Letter

Remembering

Dear Friends,

I'm looking after a collection of my grandfather's memorabilia from his time of service in World War 1 including a couple of hard tack biscuits, a collection of postcards, photographs and magazines, and curiously a bar of German soap. I so wished that I'd asked more questions when he was alive: what he did? what he thought? who he met? but can imagine his natural reticence to give insights to someone who was just a boy. So the remembrances now sit in a collection of artefacts.

Academically, people remember the war in different ways. In her book, The War that Ended Peace, Oxford historian Prof. Margaret MacMillan wrote "the great war was nobody's fault or everybody's... some powers and their leaders are more culpable than others." She went on to explain that you can give answers to the 'who started it' question, but it is much harder to determine 'who caused it?'

What is remembered is that many thought (or hoped?) it would be over quickly and justly. 'We'll be home by Christmas' and 'The war to end all wars'. So with patriotic zeal in the air, it is remembered that a generation of young people from across Britain and the then Empire went forth to serve, accepting risk. The poet Rupert Brooke wrote in 1914 on loss with valour:

*If I should die, think only this of me:
That there's some corner of a foreign field
That is for ever England. There shall be
In that rich earth a richer dust concealed;
A dust whom England bore, shaped, made aware,
Gave, once, her flowers to love, her ways to roam,
A body of England's, breathing English air,
Washed by the rivers, blest by suns of home.*

But by 1915 the hope of a swift end was over, sides were entrenched, literally. Troops were enmeshed in barbed wire and slaughtered by the new mechanisation of the machine gun. With such a turn of events new remembrances were formed, not least as posed in the stark critique of the later war poets whose insight has risen to the fore in subsequent decades. One such poet is Wilfred Owen, who drew on the Old Testament story of Abram and his son Isaac in his poem 'The Parable of the Old Man and the Young'

*So Abram rose, and clave the wood, and went,
And took the fire with him, and a knife.
And as they sojourned both of them together,
Isaac the first-born spake and said, My Father,
Behold the preparations, fire and iron,
But where the lamb for this burnt offering?
Then Abram bound the youth with belts and straps,
And builded parapets and trenches there,
And stretched forth the knife to slay his son.
When lo! an angel called him out of heaven,
Saying, Lay not thy hand upon the lad,
Neither do anything to him. Behold,
A ram, caught in the thicket by its horns;
Offer the Ram of Pride instead of him.
But the old man would not so, but slew his son,
And half the seed of Europe, one by one.*

So another set of remembrances are laid, in part drawing on the God-given sanctity of life, on the contrast between a just war which accepts that protecting innocent human life and defending important moral values sometimes requires willingness to use force and violence, and the unacceptable cost of the Flanders killing fields.

As I write at the beginning of the second week in October, the destructive war in Ukraine rumbles on, now into its 20th month, devastating lives and communities. The cost is all too apparent. And painfully, so painfully, the most ancient conflicts has flared into a major battle in Israel Palestine. Devastation and destruction abound in the land called holy. Margaret MacMillan's dictum, you can give answers to the 'who started it' question, but it is much harder to determine 'who caused it', is painfully pertinent in today's Ukraine and Israel/Palestine.

As you may read this, we'll be approaching another season of remembrance. A time when people remember, and ask searching questions, including, where God is in the remembrances?

As you may know, in 2018 I had an opportunity to make a personal pilgrimage to the Somme to see some of the places where my paternal grandfather, Frederick Pickering, served. Most poignantly, I also went to meet my friend of many years, Pfarrer (Pastor) Martin Henninger, whose one grandfather, Friedrich, had also served at the Somme. We explored some of the places where each of our grandfathers have walked together.

Two grandsons whose grandfathers, with the same name, served in the same place but on opposite sides. Two grandfathers who both looked to the same God. It is a memory to cherish and having been with Martin, I can believe no other than the God our grandfathers worshipped was shedding tears for both sides in the heartache, hurt and horror of the war.

Many facets of the war are remembered, including the history, personal stories, sacrifice and the service, the bravery and the foolishness, the horror and the heartache. In this list and critically we should also remember that never again should so much inhumanity be inflicted on humanity, brothers and sisters in Christ and children of God. Martin and I agreed that it would be a pertinent induction for the leader of any nation into their new role, to spend some days at the Somme.

Our world can too quickly forget the lessons that a previous generation carried to their graves. I hope that through 'remembering' that war is rarely glorious or great, inevitably devastating and costly, it may bolster the resolve to find ways to prevent future conflicts. Meanwhile, as we remember, and remember the one who said, 'remember me', may we also continue to pray for a just peace.

In peace,

David

PS amongst the magazines in my grandfather's collection are some booklets of cartoons by Bruce Bairnsfather. The one below is entitled 'leave', its poignant question under the backdrop of The Front, "how long have you got Fred?" speaks to Freds on both sides.

LET'S CELEBRATE DAVID'S THREE YEARS!

The first Sunday 26th November, will be close to marking three years of David's ministry among us at Emmanuel and Elmers End. That service will be a special one featuring St Andrew – do try to be there.

Let's celebrate and express our thanks and appreciation for all that David has brought to us. One aspect I would like to single out:

... the way in which he has called our attention to the wonder of the natural world. Behind his preaching has been a high level of expertise – do we all realise how significant and unusual that has been, if only because of the urgency of humankind's dilemma over global warming?

He has brought us butterflies and bugs, flowers, plants and trees of many kinds, birds and beasts, islands and seascapes, seasons and landscapes. Sometimes I have said to myself that these are David's personal interests, his hobbies – and that is a train of thought that you may have had also, which could diminish the significance of his way of revealing for us what is no less than the nature of God.

What am I getting at? Bear with me as I explain. You may recall my emphasis on the Trinity, not as an ancient theory, but as a key aspect of our understanding of the faith, each of the same status as the other:

1. the mind-bendingly amazing 'activity' of God as Creator
2. the very special significance of Jesus as Saviour and Lord, and
3. the Spirit's power, shown in loud and quiet, huge and small ways...

In many a Christian church, the proportion of the preaching is:

1. Creation – 5%, mainly at Harvest Festival;
2. Jesus – 90%, especially at Christmas, Good Friday and Easter – with plenty of healing and preaching stories, spread around the year;
3. Holy Spirit – 5%, mainly at Pentecost – Whit Sunday, if you prefer.

Of course that's guesswork, because all three aspects of God get referred to in various ways throughout the year. But (I hope!) you get my main point: that usually Creation gets little attention.

Well, not in our church, because David has made a constant effort to redress the balance. The created world is EVERYTHING from furthest galaxies billions of light-years away to the tiniest particle only visible with powerful electronic instruments. We need to talk about it and show our appreciation of it. What we mean when we say 'Creator' has to be in some sense bigger than that: all-comprehending of the whole of what we call 'the natural world' or 'the universe'. Everything comes 'within' that notion of Creator God.

When we sing hymns with lines like 'he made their tiny wings' or 'hear the birds sing sweetly in the trees', we do not think as naively as those words suggest, but in our minds we recast the simple wording to include the wonder of creation in all its greatness.

That is what David is enabling us to do: to take in all the immensity of the created world, with its unimaginable intricacy: the way it works (or at least the principles behind it), its evolving structures, its integrity of being in itself and its purposefulness for the greater good of humanity, not forgetting its awesome quality and sheer beauty. Do think on and find further and better ways of saying what we mean when we say that 'this is God's wonderful world'.

So we may say to David that, without diverging from the centrality of Christ and the power of the Spirit, he has presented to us the sheer wonder of God's created world. Join me in thanking him for enlarging our thinking and for bringing back to mind the prime importance of the First 'Person' of the Trinity, without Whom, without Which, none of us would exist.

News of the Church Family, URC and wider Church Community

"November is a month for remembering, beginning as bonfire night approaches,
Remember, remember!
The fifth of November,
The Gunpowder treason and plot;
I know of no reason
Why the Gunpowder treason
Should ever be forgot!

And a week later, we pause as individuals, a faith community and a nation in our annual act of remembrance of those who have served and those who have fallen in conflicts, and pray for the peace for which they served.

And the US journalist, Peggy Toney Horton, wrote a November sooth for us all:

"Whenever it is a damp, drizzly November in my soul, I shall recall the memory of warm, sunny, late summer afternoons like this one, and be comforted greatly."
In this month of remembering, please remember in your prayers those experiencing some of life's joys and sorrows, heartaches and hopes, including:

Baptism

It was a joy to welcome Taylan Tiandre together with his family on Sunday 1st October for Baptism. The day was shortly after Taylan's first birthday, so his family and friends gathered for a double celebration. Pictured is Taylan with his parents, Narica and Andrew.

Following his baptism the congregation sang the Aaronic Blessing:

*The Lord bless you and keep you:
the Lord make his face to shine upon you,
and be gracious unto you:
the Lord lift up his countenance upon you,
and give you peace.*

(from The Book of Numbers Chapter 6 verses 24-26)

Bereavements

We are sad to report the death of three of Emmanuel's fellowship.

Gill Simmons, died suddenly on Sunday 24th September. She will be remembered by a number in Emmanuel, when together with her late parents, Derek and Shirley Simmons, she played an active role in our church life. Her funeral is being held on Tuesday 31st October at Beckenham Crematorium followed by a service of thanksgiving at Christchurch, Anerley at 3pm.

Audrey Grief died on Thursday 28th September in the care home where she lived following a gradual decline in her health. Her sons, David and Philip, arranged a private service at Beckenham Crematorium. At this time we remember her step-daughter, Catherine in Australia, together with David, Philip and their families. Emmanuel Life includes an 'In Memory' tribute to Audrey.

Helen Matthews, Carol's daughter, passed away unexpectedly on 18th October. Sharing their grief, we extend our heartfelt love and sympathy to Carol, to Carol's daughter Diane and her husband David, to her son John-Paul, now living in Norway, and to David's mother Eileen, a regular member of our Emmanuel Fellowship.

A Prayer

*Shepherding, welcoming God, for treasured memories of loved ones, we thank you.
May your peace touch grieving hearts,
May your light dispel death's darkness,
May your new life bring hope. Amen.*

A Prayer for Healing

Healing Lord, as four friends carried a sick person to Jesus, so, I carry to Jesus in my prayer...

(please add a name, or hold a picture, of someone in your thoughts)

May your healing hand surround and support them, in Jesus' name, Amen.

If you know of someone who would appreciate the prayerful support of the church, or has a special anniversary or birthday, or any special news, please let Bryn or an elder know, or David from 5th November.

Bryn & David

Do not worry about anything, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God. And the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus.

Emmanuel Fellowship

Dear Friends,

It's November!! Well, there's a surprise: it comes along every year around this time. The clocks have gone back, and it's time to look at our November programme.

- 7th – Pastime Historical Dance is a group of skilled enthusiasts who perform dances in period costumes. They are colourful, authentic and elegant. Come along, and get caught up in a moment of time.
- 14th - John Halligan will return to the Fellowship after a long absence, with a royal theme: 'The Life and Times of King Edward VII'. Well, for those of us who weren't around in his lifetime, which includes us all, there might be quite a lot to learn about this British monarch.
- 21st – Can you remember what it's like to be a child, or are you forever young-at-heart? Sue Thomas feels we all need a reminder of the wonder and magic of being young. 'Recalling the Child's Perspective' will be an afternoon of poems, prose, songs and nostalgia.
- 28th – With St Andrew's Day just round the corner, Jim Moffat, a musician of many talents, will bring a Scottish flavour to our afternoon, with his experience of 'A Musical Journey Through Lockdown'.

We look forward to seeing you at Emmanuel, in the Richmond Hall, Tuesdays at 2.15pm. Where else can you enjoy tea and biscuits, entertainment and great company for only £3?

Every blessing,

Sue Thomas and the Fellowship Committee

From the Treasurer

Dear Members and Friends,

Freewill Offering and Gift Aid

May I thank each of you who continue to give faithfully and regularly to our church through our Freewill Offering scheme and through other voluntary giving.

Most people are no longer using an FWO weekly envelope, but the individual FWO Number is still important where a Gift Aid Declaration has been signed.

The Gift Aid Declaration enables the church to reclaim an additional 25% Income Tax recovery on the amount given by those who are tax payers, and this can apply to any other giving to charity through our church – Christian Aid, Commitment for Life are examples of this.

From time to time all of us make other voluntary gifts to our church – extra money in the collection plate, charity appeals, Sunday coffee donations, and these gifts allow us to recover up to £2,000 of Income Tax each year, whether we are tax payers or not.

In our financial year which ended on 30th September 2023 we received an Income Tax repayment of £13,935 to add to our annual church and charity income.

Our income from Freewill Offerings in the Financial Year came to £46,459 which is an increase on last year's total of £44,975, and above our forecast of £45,000.

Looking at the year ahead we anticipate significant increases in costs. Our Ministry and Mission contribution for 2024 has increased by £5,016 to £55,116 and the cost of heating and lighting will be considerably higher under our latest supply agreements.

Thank you for all your financial support to our church in the past year. Please continue that support and let's see if we can improve on last year's total in the year ahead.

Church Treasurer

Over the past couple of years the Communications habitat group (David, Marion Moore, Flora Kumi and Doug Carr) have looked at the way the church communicates with people both near and far, who are part of the Emmanuel community or might be searching for us.

Previously we've launched an information leaflet (you have probably seen these in the vestibule and the leaflet dispenser on one of the benches outside) and a new Facebook page. We also reviewed our website and decided that a lot of the content needed updating, and it would be helpful to have more support available to us. So Elders agreed to have a new site designed for us by ichurch, which is run by the URC specifically to design and support church websites.

Welcome to Emmanuel – a community of faith, hope and love for West Wickham. We seek to offer a warm welcome, whether at our range of midweek activities or our Sunday services.

Welcome to our new website!

If you are online, do have a browse around the site. I'd love to have your feedback.

Church email addresses are also being replaced. Mostly these are just replacing the second half of the address so minister@godwithus.org.uk becomes minister@emmanuelww.org.uk, for example. They are not all quite the same but don't worry, all the old email addresses still exist and will forward to the new ones for at least the next few months.

The old website still exists but will just direct people to the new site. If you come across references to the old site – on leaflets, notices, letters etc. which you think should be changed please let me know – there are bound to be some I have missed!

We hope this is another way in which we can be a welcoming presence in our community, with a clean and fresh look while having more technical support available for myself and anyone else who helps maintain the site.

Nature ramblings - Summer's last hurrah!

As I write at the beginning of the second week in October, whilst the days are shortening, Summer is enjoying a last hurrah.

And so I couldn't resist the treat of an afternoon amble to my favourite local pond, set at the foot of Spring Park Woods by Addington Bottom. I wandered there through the Spring and Summer seasons and was rewarded by a succession of dragonflies, so wondered, if I'd yet see a last dragonfly this season.

I was not disappointed. The pond was abuzz, a hornet supping at the water's edge, bees collecting some late-flowering nectar and the delight of dragonflies on the wing. Late season, the Common Darter is the most likely dragonfly to be seen, and I was treated to several, including a sight, the nature of which was worthy of a David Attenborough wildlife documentary. Pairs of darters, the male resplendent in their dusky, rusty red hues and the female, how can I say this, somewhat drabber, mating mid-flight. I once heard a child say to their mother, "look, Mummy, they're holding hands!" And from mid-flight mating, whilst still 'in tandem' the female, in a thrashing operation, dipped her abdomen into the water, laying her eggs, ovipositing!

I spotted two pairs of mating darters and a single male, who clearly felt left out. He repeatedly tried to muscle in on one of the females, mid-copulating flight. But the 'successful' male protected his interests, for by remaining in tandem', the marauder couldn't get a look in! Their vigour precluded a photo, so I illustrate with a watercolour.

In the Book of Ecclesiastes it is written, 'For everything there is a season, and a time for every matter under the heaven: time to be born, and a time to die'.

I returned home reflecting that in the 'laying down' of the eggs, I saw one season's last hurrah begetting another season's new life. One of nature's 'Easter' stories.

Isn't creation wonderful!

In Memory of Audrey Grief

The passing of Audrey brought to the end an association with Emmanuel spanning the best part of 75 years, which is most of the time that our church has existed on its present site!

Audrey attended Emmanuel for a number of years before she married Harold Grief, a widower in 1951. Harold had a two year old daughter Catherine, and in time the family grew through the birth of their sons, David in 1953 and Philip in 1956.

Audrey formally joined Emmanuel in November 1959 and continued as a regular worshipper at Emmanuel, and became involved in a number of church groups, including the Over Twenties, The Young Wives, (later to become The Guild, then the Ladies Fellowship and more recently Emmanuel Fellowship) the Choir and the Badminton Club.

Audrey and Harold lived for most of their married life on Woodland Way, West Wickham. They later moved to Biggin Hill, and shortly after Harold died in 1990, Audrey moved back to West Wickham, to live in a bungalow within Bencurtis Park, on Corkscrew Hill. This was to become her home for over 30 more years. She made many friends and enjoyed life in the supportive community, and continued her role within Emmanuel.

As the years turned Audrey has needed more care and support, initially provided within her bungalow, but when her health made independent living impossible, she moved to full time residential care, at Cranmer Court on Farleigh Common. It was there that she died on 28th September 2023, at the age of 95.

t Harvest Festival you generously gave a huge amount of food and other essential items and this is in addition to your weekly donations to the food hamper in The Vestibule.

Major Emma Spencer was very pleased to receive the gifts in support of their work in New Addington.

Dear friends

Thank you so much for once again remembering The Vine foodbank and choosing us to receive your Harvest donations. We are so very grateful to you for your continued support. Without you and others like you we wouldn't be able to help those in our community who are struggling. It's a wonderful team effort and shows what an incredible difference we can make in this world when we partner together.

The food that we have received from the Harvest donations this year will go into the food parcels that we give out weekly but some items will go into our Christmas hampers.

We feel truly blessed to have received from you once again. Thank you so much.

Improved livestock production, managing and marketing

In the Mudzi District of Zimbabwe, our Commitment for Life partners work to support improved livestock production, managing and marketing.

Livestock such as cattle, goats, chickens, ducks and guinea fowl are incredibly valuable resources for communal farmers. Yet these resources suffer the impacts of climate change most acutely. Thanks to the education, training, and support that you enable through your support, local farmers are taught risk reduction techniques and financial literacy.

“Our training covered goat production and management aspects such as improved housing, nutrition, and disease management.

“We are grateful for the improved knowledge,” says communal farmer, Mr Never Kafura.

Thank you to all who contributed to Commitment for Life at Harvest, where we raised £2,785.

Eco Hints Round 10: November 2023

Library of Things

This month's tip follows on from Ian Moore's excellent Eco Hints last month, encouraging you to repair items where possible. That makes good economic sense, as well as environmental sense. The Library of Things operates with the those aims in mind.

Have you heard of the Library of Things? Well, I hadn't heard of it until recently. It's a really brilliant way to do cleaning, maintenance and repair projects at home, without the expense of buying the necessary equipment. And, of course, you don't need to find space to store the equipment.

Ok, so you might be at the stage in life when you are no longer willing or able to do maintenance or repair jobs yourself, and no family member steps up to do the work. BUT WAIT, you can borrow a variety of items, such as a projector, a dehumidifier, a waffle maker, or even an inflatable mattress. If you choose the latter and welcome a family member to stay, they may decide they can help you tackle some of those little DIY tasks!

Here's how the Library of Things works:

Visit the website, browse, and request an item. Pick the item up from your local self-service kiosk and return it there after use. You can even 'join a skillshare session to learn practical skills like DIY and repair'. <https://www.libraryofthings.co.uk/how-borrowing-works>

Guess what? There's a Library of Things right on your doorstep in Bromley. Just look online at: <https://www.libraryofthings.co.uk>

Prices start from £1 per day, depending on the type of item you wish to borrow. With the following categories available, what's holding you back?

- Cleaning
- DIY
- Hobbying
- Gardening
- Adventuring
- Cooking & Hosting

Eco Church Network Bromley

The Eco Church Network Bromley was launched in spring this year and has now travelled to 4 different churches and welcomed attendees from 14 different congregations. The various speakers have covered all areas of the Eco Church programme – with deeper dives into bio-diversity, political hustings and energy efficiency in community buildings,

There is one more meeting scheduled for the rest of this year:

- Wednesday 22nd November – at Beckenham Methodist (BR3 5JE). Simon Brown from A Rocha will tell us more about the wider work of A Rocha, all the things they do like the Wild Christian programme, their own eco plots, and working with other partners on threatened species and habitats.

As part of Eco Church Network Bromley, Emmanuel receives the bi-monthly Bromley Environment Newsletter published by Greener & Cleaner. We do print off a few copies, which are usually on the tables at Warm Welcome Fridays, but if you'd like to receive this directly by email please let me know and I'll forward it on to you each time.

Election of Elders

Emmanuel is to hold a short Church Meeting on Sunday 10th December for the election of new Elders for a four year term starting in January 2024. These new Elders will then be inducted, or ordained and inducted if appropriate, at a Sunday morning service in January.

First, the admin bit...

This year, we have one Elder who has reached the end of their current 4 year term, namely Rosemary Daniels. Rosemary has agreed to serve for a further period. However we are looking for at least an additional 2 new Elders.

Nomination forms will be available in both vestibules or available from an Elder and must be returned to Rosemary no later than Sunday 26th November.

Second, what does it mean to be called to be an Elder?

There's a small booklet produced by the URC ("They've asked me to be an Elder") which has recently been updated and reprinted and is aimed at answering exactly this question. It describes in practical terms what is expected of Elders as a key part of the church leadership team – working with the minister and sharing responsibility for the spiritual oversight of the congregation.

For those who haven't been Elders before, there's often an acute sense of the unknown, of not being equipped for the role. To which, there's a lovely quote in the booklet which says: "Daunted? Don't be!"

Eldership is a privilege as well as a responsibility. It is an enriching ministry for those who do it and those who benefit from it. We invite anyone who is considering the suggestion to be an Elder, to come and talk about it further. We also hope members may consider approaching someone and asking if they might consider being nominated.

If you'd like a copy of that booklet to help you think about it, do please ask an Elder or David for one. Alternatively there is an online version on the URC website – called to be an elder.pdf\(urch.org.uk\)

A prayer for those considering Eldership

Loving God, guide me now as I seek to find your way for me.

Create in me a renewed dedication to your service.

Set before me the example of Christ Jesus.

Fill me with the wisdom of the Holy Spirit.

This I pray, trusting in your grace.

Amen.

VOLUNTEERING AT THE MEMORY BOX CAFE

I have been volunteering at the Memory Box Cafe since November 2021.

The Cafe opens on the first and third Friday of the month from 2pm till 3.30pm.

It has been run by Ravenswood (West Wickham) Women's Institute (WI) at Emmanuel Church, West Wickham for just over 7 years. It provides a place for those with dementia and their carers to go for an enjoyable afternoon. Tea, coffee and biscuits (and cakes on special occasions) as well as entertainment in the way of quizzes, music, singing and dancing are provided free of charge.

When the members arrive, they register and receive a lanyard with their first name on it so everybody knows who they are. On the tables where they sit, they will find wordsearches, quizzes and pictures for colouring as well as pens and coloured pencils.

The volunteers sit at one of the tables, go and collect tea or coffee for the guests and chat with them and help with any puzzles where help is needed. Also, volunteers help set up the Cafe and clear up at the end of the afternoon.

Additionally, it gives the carers an opportunity to meet other carers and we always finish the afternoon by singing 'Bring me sunshine' from the Morecambe & Wise shows. They all love singing.
